An Important Note for Press Attending Oceanology International

Please register for your press pass online now. Registration will not be possible at the event.

www.oceanologyinternational.com

Only pre-registered Oceanology International press will be able to attend Oceanology International. There will be no onsite registration this year for press or visitors. Please do not turn up at the event if you have not pre-registered.

A list of new products at the show, together with a schedule of dockside demonstrations will be available at the Media Office adjacent to entrance S2.

You are also able to attend any of the conferences that will be held during the event.

We look forward to welcoming you to Oceanology International
