The UK's leading boat sales company, Boats.co.uk has been awarded the "Customer Service Award" at the prestigious 2016 Motor Boat Awards held in London this week. The award was nominated by readers of Britain's top motorboating magazine, Motor Boat and Yachting, which hosted the annual event which is attended by boat builders from throughout Europe.

The award was presented to James Barke and Nick Barke of Boats.co.uk by Greg Chiappini of Lombard, sponsors of the Award. Greg commented, “The many plaudits received for all of our finalists speak for themselves but one company stood out not just for the number of nominations it garnered but also for the genuinely heartfelt gratitude from the many customers who’d had precious holidays on their boats saved by the prompt actions of Boats.co.uk.”

Nick Barke said, “We are very grateful to our customers for going to the trouble of nominating us for this award. We do our utmost to make boat ownership a pleasurable and trouble free experience for our customers and to receive an award for outstanding service confirms we are doing our job well. It will be a great boost to our entire team.”
