Dometic: HVAC Specialist to Host "Dometic Bar" at Seawork

Seawork International 2016, Mayflower Park, Southampton, 14th to 16th June, Stand PG90

Dometic, world-leading marine equipment supplier to boat builders and manufacturers, is a sponsor at Seawork International for the third consecutive year, when it will be hosting the 'Dometic Bar'.

The HVAC specialist is sponsoring the prominent, glass-fronted waterfront bar at the show's new permanent home at the prestigious Mayflower Park in Southampton, providing a prime location for visitors and exhibitors to enjoy refreshments overlooking the pontoons. With a choice of inside or outside seating, show attendees will sip their drinks from Dometic-branded glasses at the Dometic Bar which is conveniently located between exhibitor stands during the three-day event next week.

As a trusted supplier of commercial and workboat specific equipment, Dometic is looking forward to a productive and high-profile presence at this year's Seawork as it introduces its new innovative Titan chiller with titanium tube condenser. The company's stand at PG90 will also showcase the latest variable speed chiller technology, engine room ventilation, Sea Xchange reverse osmosis watermakers and other sanitation, refrigeration and galley equipment.

Dometic's Steve Morris, Director of UK MAOE Sales, said it is important for the company to continue to strengthen its reputation in the sector by regularly launching new products and innovations to its equipment, and continuing to back one of the largest commercial shows in Europe.

He commented: "Seawork is always a key platform for us to launch and showcase our commercial equipment and new technology, so we are very pleased to renew our association with the show this year as an official sponsor again. We are looking forward to hosting our industry friends and colleagues at the Dometic Bar and encourage everyone to stop by and enjoy the facility.

"The exhibition is important for us to promote our company and products, secure international sales leads and connect with current and potential customers. This year, we are confident that the new technology behind our Titan and award-winning VARC chillers will be of great interest to boatbuilders and manufacturers."

For the past two years, Dometic has sponsored the Wi-Fi at the show, which attracts 7,500 industry professionals, 10,000 products and services, together with over 70 vessels.

Dometic supplies a range of innovative equipment, including marine air conditioning systems, sanitation systems, ventilation systems, watermakers, refrigerators, ovens and battery chargers, to commercial vessels, yachts and pleasure boats.
